

Verse 78:

How It Happens / How It Goes

When you die, you will go back to the moment where he first laughed at one of your jokes and smiled at you with full eyes and you will live in that moment for as long as you like which will probably be eternity.

Verse 141:

Heart / Foot

If my heart were a foot, I would step it into warm sand and rinse it in the sea.

Verse 205:

A Certain Cluster of Workmen

There was this certain cluster of workmen around this certain veiled worksite, who one day removed the orange gauze concealing their work to reveal a garden of flowers. When this was done, they washed their hands and drank coffee and gently gazed at the flowers in silence.